Parents and Others Invited to 6 PM Gatherings March 25th and April 1st

Parents of Peru Central students and other community members associated with the school district who have interest in helping with the annual review of the district's code of conduct are invited to telephone the office of High School Assistant Principal Sanford Coakley at 643-6022 or Middle School Assistant Principal Fred Schaefer at 643-6362 by no later than Wednesday, March 18th at 3 PM to express interest in participating with the Wednesday, March 25th and/or Wednesday, April 1st meetings of that committee, at the community room, near the renovated main entrance of Peru High School.

"This conduct committee consists of students, parents, teachers, administrators and others. Parents and interested other residents of Peru Central who attend will help construct an updated code of conduct for students that will be put into place at the start of next school year," according to A. Paul Scott, Superintendent of Schools. "This committee's annual review of the district's code of conduct is part of our focus on continuous improvement efforts for programs and operations across campus. Such a review is consistent with State regulations that call for the school district to maintain an up-to-date code of conduct," Scott said.
